called by the American Personnel and Guidance Association and the NEA's Project on School Dropouts. The authors cover such topics as vocational development of the dropout; organization of the guidance program; counseling disadvantaged youth; preparation of counselors; and cooperation between the professions in handling the dropout problem.

Science

Exploring Light and Color, Charles D. Neal. Childrens Press, Jackson Boulevard at Racine Avenue, Chicago 60607; 1964. Clothbound. Illustrated. 156 pages. Price, $3.38.

Several dozen projects and experiments in the science of optics are suggested for fourth-grade level and up. Specific instructions and numerous illustrations are included.

Science in Modern Life, George G. Mallinson and Fred C. Meppelink, Jr. Ginn and Co., 205 West Wacker Drive, Chicago 60606; 1964. Clothbound. Illustrated. 560 pages. Price, $5.60.

Modern topics, including "space age" developments, and interdisciplinary relationships are emphasized in this ninth-grade general science text. Twelve teaching units are presented, with numerous study activities.

General Chemistry: A Programmed Review, Luciana Sacerdote. John Wiley and Sons, 605 Third Avenue, New York 16; 1963. Paperbound. 325 pages. Price, $4.75.

Prepared for college use, this self-instructional material will complement a general chemistry course using a physicochemical approach. It will correspond with a full-year's course.

The True Science Library. Childrens Press, Jackson at Racine, Chicago 60607; 1963. Clothbound. Illustrated. Price, $39.95.

Twelve volumes of high-interest material, with low reading level, cover 33 important elementary science areas. Animals, plants, physical wonders, and other scientific areas are explored, with colorful illustrations which will appeal to even the youngest school children. Volume 12 contains the index, bibliographies for children and teachers and parents, about 50 pages of activities and experiments.

Science for Camp and Counselor, William T. Harty. Association Press, 291 Broadway, New York 10007; 1964. Clothbound. Illustrated. 320 pages. Price, $9.95.

For camp leaders and teachers of outdoor education, and for science hobbyists of all ages, this manual presents 117 projects relating to the camp environment. Simple, inexpensive equipment is suggested.

Language Arts

Basic Dictionary Skills, Robert A. Wakefield. Scott, Foresman and Co., 433 East Erie Street, Chicago 60611; 1964. Paperbound. 96 pages. Price, 75 cents.

This is a skill-development book for use with the Thorndike-Barnhart High School Dictionary. It has 32 lessons with write-in space.

Spelling for the Millions, Edna L. Furness. Appleton-Century, 60 East 42nd Street, New York 10017; 1964. Clothbound. 211 pages. Price, $4.95.

Based on an understanding of the reasons for spelling failures, a series of lessons for high-school students or adults is presented in self-help form. The inconsistencies of English spelling, hidden rules of spelling, and problems of spelling reform are explored.

Writing: Unit-Lessons in Composition, Don P. Brown et al. Ginn and Co., 205 West Wacker Drive, Chicago 60606; 1964. Paperbound. 115 pages. Price, $1.80.

Each of 25 chapters is a lesson centered on a single writing skill or technique and presents several practice situations. The book is intended for grades 10 to 12, as a "key to writing" rather than a textbook. There are three separate volumes--A for superior students, B for those less skilled, and C for those of average ability.
